WASHINGTON, Nov. 12 (AP) — Admitting that somebody else had the sale of its new stamps

50 Misprinted 4-Cent Stamps Could Make Salesman Wealthy

Upside-Down Dag Hammarskjold Issue
May Be Worth $5 Million

Irvington, N.J. (UPI) — Leonard Sherman, a jewelry salesman, estimated that the 50 upside-down 4-cent stamps he bought last week could be worth up to $5 million if sold.

Stamp Collector May Get Rich Over Error

Akron, Ohio, Nov. 10 (UPI) — Three local stamp collectors said today they have caught the government in a printing error that may make their stamps worth $200,000.

The mistake was in the printing of some of the Dag Hammarskjold commemorative stamps. The holders of the stamps are Gerard P. Clark, 19, and his partner, Clark, who has collected stamps since childhood, said he was in running the store when the mistake was made.

Restraint Is Sought On Stamp Printings

N. J. Collector Tries To Stop Issue of
Million More Dag Rarities

Newark (UPI) — District Court Judge Anthony Augelli ordered Postmaster General J. Edgar Hoover to stop the issue of 4-cent Dag Hammarskjold stamps. The stamps are being printed in a quantity of 1 million.

Fortune In Stamps Ebbs Considerably

Upside-Down Dag Issue May Be Worth
Only $20,000 To Salesman

Irvington, N.J. (UPI) — Leonard Sherman, a jewelry salesman, said today that the upside-down Dag Hammarskjold stamps he bought last week are worth only $20,000.

N. J. Salesman Is Vexed By Glut Of Rare Stamps

Thinks Post Office Is Unethical In Decision To
Issue 400,000 More Upside-Downers

Irvington (UPI) — Leonard Sherman, the jewelry salesman, said today that the Post Office is unethical in deciding to issue 400,000 more upside-down Dag Hammarskjold stamps.

Man to Get Answer on Stamp Prize

Leonard Sherman of 35 Wolf Place, Irvington, will find out today whether the $2 he invested on a block of 50 commemorative postage stamps with a printing mistake will yield him a five- or six-figure profit.

The 38-year-old collector, whose purchase rocketed him to overnight fame, said today that he is looking for a solution in the expenditure programs themselves. "Key to a solution is in the expenditure programs themselves," he said. "Key to a solution is in the expenditure programs themselves."

Stamp Collector Has Renown But He Still Prefers $500,000

Irvington Man
Not Bowing

By HERBERT L. CORBIN
Leonard Sherman, an Irvington man, who dejectedly saw a stamp collector's stamps disappear yesterday, said today that he would not sell his stamps for $500,000.
